should become acclimated in that time

Sometimes teams train too long. At that, it is often hard to get teams into the stride until three weeks after the season begins, for no player takes the same interest in a practice game be does in the real thing.

POULTRYMAN SAYS THAT Successful poultryman says that persons much sickness in his southern part by furnishing shade, covering pure food fresh water, variety of food. He avoids drafts, is regular feeding avoids overfeeding, gives water twice a week, avoids overcrowding, has cool houses in summer and warm houses in winter. He keeps the lice crop whitewashes the interior of the house twice a year, uses green food daily in summer, uses the droppings daily, and keeps the poultry clean. He does not use the slightest disinfectant. He keeps the slight elements but kills off all cases of contagious disease. He keeps green cut bone twice a week, keeps new nests once a week, has a constant supply of straw kept within the house. He avoids outdoor feed in winter for bulky food and hay in winter for heating food to eat. He places up the runs several times a year sweeps indoors during the winter. He burns sulphur in the house once a month, kerosene the house and nest boxes once a week, keeps the males from the females feeding molting and once a week keeps out the drinking vessels.
Feathering in fowls belongs to disease of a cold in the head and instead of only a slight ailment. In young chicks the trouble is best avoided by putting four drops of the oil of eucalyptus in a half pint of drinking water. Use the homeopathic remedy in adult chickens the same as in chicks. But the size of a chick is not a good sign of its health and fitness in the drinking fowl run. It is best to see that the fowls can eat and drink.

PLUM TREE IS QUITE HARDY

Locally Healthy Only When Limited Number of Branches Left Free Pruning—Prune Once Only A general rule our orchard trees are being set out are left entirely nature and when the question of pruning comes up it frequently does not come before horticultural advice. It is interesting to note that of all the trees given any sensible reason for advocating pruning on the one hand, or no pruning on the other. But the plum is a tree that is especially beneficial only when a limited number of branches are left on the tree and for this reason the weaker and poorer class of shoots should never be allowed to exist. When the trees are young, one should keep an eye to the branches that are likely to be the best vigorous, and many of the weak ones should be at once taken away.
This suggestion is in a measure true of all fruit trees. A limited number of large heavy vigorous leaves is of much more consequence to the vitality of the tree than a large number of half-starved leaves would be.
It is particularly true of the plum. The good, vigorous style of shading plum trees rarely results in a satisfactory profit.

Modern Incubators

The reliability and comparative cheapness of modern incubators have done much to help the industry, and it is now generally agreed that the various methods are quite economical than the natural process with its initial expenditure, upkeep, time and labor of attendance. A small incubator can hatch 40 chicks and a single brooder can rear them and will take as little time and attention from the attendant as a hen with ten or a dozen chickens. A high order of intelligence is not essential to the successful operation of hatching, and rearing up chickens and the farmer's wife operated like is orderly in habits and acted with common sense can multiply this an incubator or brooder with success.

Peppermint Farms

Most of the world's peppermint is grown on peppermint farms in Michigan. Over 300,000 pounds of peppermint oil worth $4 a pound is produced annually from the moist and black soil of northwestern Michigan.
Peppermint farming is simple. The trees are planted in the spring, the rows which are about three feet thick are cut down in the late summer, the cutting goes on through August and September.
An acre yields about twenty-five pounds of oil. The cost of this production—planting, weeding, cutting, about $1. The oil itself often brings as high as $4.

Alfalfa Hay

Alfalfa hay is the richest in nutriment fed to horses and when a horse is fed all he will eat it might possibly keep his stomach so content that he will not produce. Even when a horse is fed a reasonable amount no horse need be contented with the feeding of alfalfa hay. It is so rich in protein it sometimes villages the horses' bowels to become so loose. Alfalfa is not nearly so able to produce heavy in horses as are straws of various kinds and other fodder.
Planting Trees
When planting trees let the roots be dry by leaving them in the sun and keep the trees covered with a sack and uncover one at a time.
Need of Chicks
The young chicks especially need variety of food, including sweet, chickadee grains, grit, oyster shell, ground and meat in some form.

More Attention Should Be Paid to Breed Type in Selection of Birds for Improvement

DR. W. H. UNDERWOOD
By giving a new and better sire every two years an excellent flock can be built up from a very small outlay of money. More attention should be paid to breed type in the selection of the sire from year to year as by so doing the type of the entire flock will be very much improved. If after a few years experience with the flock one wishes to establish a pure-bred flock a few choice pure-bred ewes may be added to the original flock. Then by proper care and selection the pure breeds may be increased from year to year and the grades discarded. The majority of men, however, will make more money by handling a flock of good high grade sheep the misapprehension of which are sold for market purposes than by engaging in the pure-bred business. Every man should keep a pure-bred sire but few men are qualified to make a success of handling pure-bred stock. This is no argument against the raising of pure-bred animals but those who have had no experience with pure breeds and who wish to raise them should begin with only two or three animals and increase the stock as their experience grows.

WHERE EGGS MUST BE FRESH

Deposits Established in Germany Where Quality and Freshness Must Be Guaranteed by Seller

In many of the large cities of Germany egg deposits are established in which the quality and freshness of the eggs are guaranteed. For every dozen eggs the purchaser is entitled to get sixteen good ones.
If this method was to be used in this country under present conditions there would be enough good eggs to go around after the first three percent had been made save an exchange. Some pure food enthusiasts advocate a government provision which will compel every poultryman and farmer who sells eggs to mark them with his name so that they may be traced back and if he continues to sell bad eggs he will be barred permanently from all public markets.
It is not believed that a law of this kind can be passed at any time during the next session.

Yield From Good Seed

It has been found that the Pennsylvania state college that an acre of the best Jersey Wakefield will yield $100 more than an acre of the poorest strain.
A pound of seed will produce enough plants to set three acres. It is apparent therefore that a pound of the best seed is worth $300 more than a pound of the poorest and yet most growers would be unwilling to pay more than a few dollars a pound for their supply of cabbage seed. The growers of all classes of vegetable seeds are not getting sufficient encouragement. Market gardeners should be willing to pay whatever is necessary to grow the very best seed. This is a business proposition that deserves the consideration of all classes of vegetable growers.

Lies Probably Are Present

If you have an idea that your hens have no lice on them and yet have never looked them over in the way you better try it. Many times the hens are strong enough to battle with them and you do not notice by their actions that anything is wrong but upon examination you may find lice.
Spray the house and nesting boxes with a good solution of kerosene and crude carbolic acid and you will effect a good cleaning.
Lice are very prone to make their appearance when the hen is shaken as about cleaning, so keep the combs and footings, platforms free from lice. A good clean house will now and then a good dusting of lye powder or dipping, will keep them away.

Artenate of Lead

The state is the leading lead producer for summer use. The formula is as follows:
Eight pounds arsenate of lead Fifty gallons water. This is a very poor.
Artenate of lead is the form of a thick white paste which dissolves readily in water. It adheres to the surface for a long time and does not wash off. It is used for coating, moth-proofing, and for other uses. It is a very good cleaning agent and is used as a disinfectant in the treatment of diseases.

Chickens Must Have Grit

Very few farmers have enough wit to get a good kind of grit. The best kind is the one that is round and smooth and is made of a hard material. It is not a good idea to be furnished with grit. It is a good idea to have a supply of it. It is a good idea to have a supply of it. It is a good idea to have a supply of it. It is a good idea to have a supply of it.

Companion for Cows

man and he should be treated as a companion. It is a good idea to have

COLORADO PEOPLE LOOKING FOR WEALTH OF CHINAMAN

Parties Are Being Organized in West ern Mining District to Hunt For Savings Left by Rich Prospector from the Orient

Georgetown, Colo.—Hidden wealth estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000 has been the cause of a great many people journeying to the Idaho Springs mining district during the last nine years and as usual there will be searching parties at work as soon as the weather moderates this spring.
This money is supposed to have been hidden by an aged Chinaman, Ah Lee who died in Denver nine years ago. Lee was known to have been the possessor of great wealth a portion of which was in gold dust and nuggets but so far the explorers have failed to locate the treasure.
Ah Lee had been a resident of this district for over twenty years during which time he had devoted himself exclusively to placer mining. His home was just below Floyd Hill several miles from Idaho Springs. He lived in a modern cottage which he himself had constructed out of logs. It faced to be north and was within 200 feet of the waters of Clear Creek canyon.
During his long residence here Ah Lee could be seen every day—either on some busy day in the clothing his place in the life of a prospector whatever and to all appearances was satisfied in living the life of a hermit. Still he was well liked by the citizens of Idaho Springs where he occasionally visited for the purpose of purchasing his stock of clothes. Whenever he came to that city he sold his bullion but insisted upon being paid in gold coin. As soon as he received his money the old fellow would leave for home.
On November 6 1903 two men attacked the Chinaman and injured him so that he died. It was then ascertained that Lee was an orphan. No children could be located and the Chinaman found a grave in the city of Denver.

WAIT THIRTY YEARS TO WEC

German Couple Remains Faithful to Each Other in Order to Enjoy Legacy

Berlin. An extraordinary romance of love is reported from Witten where Heinrich Hoesberg a slipper maker has just married a lady to whom he had been engaged for thirty years.
When Hoesberg was a young man of twenty eight he fell in love and was bound to marry. To his chagrin however—and so many suppose equally to that of his fiancée's wealthy aunt upon whom he had been counting forward the money under penalty of dismission from the ceremony was according to Hoesberg and Hoesberg and his fiancée waited until such amount of patience they could summon for the removal of the only barrier that still kept them apart.
Before long the aunt died and the last obstacle to happiness seemed to have been removed. But when her will was opened the lovers found that her nephew had been appointed her sole heir upon one condition. That condition was that if he did not marry the lady of his love he must forfeit thirty years of his life.

Had Pet Dog Embalmed

Philadelphia. John Cadwalader Jr. an attorney one of the minor factors of the port of Philadelphia thought so much of his pet dog which he frequently took with him the body embalmed and placed in a handsome coffin to be buried on the Hudson where he has a summer home.
When the body of the dog arrived there it was buried on the estate.
Mr. Cadwalader said
It is an entirely private matter there is nothing of public interest in the case.

BARGAIN TALK

That Made Dothan Talk

THE GRANT CLOTHING CO'S. SALE TO RAISE $15,000 IS ATTRACTING BUYERS

As irresistibly as "honey does the bees." People are coming from far and near to take advantage of the great occasion. Never before in Dothan has the old adage, "well begun is half done," proved true. We were as busy today as we were Saturday, and the papers are teeming with sales. Maybe that's just the reason why we're so busy---the disappointment of other sales. Turned into pleasant realities here, you know.

Watch the Rush of the Crowd

That honest methods and genuine reasons appeal to the buying public is amply proved by the immense crowds attending the sale of Grant Company. In behalf of our over worked salespeople we wish to ask that you be as patient as you can when you come and find the store full of customers. It will pay you to wait a few moments. We have employed a large force of extra salespeople and will do all in our power to see that you are waited on, but remember we are having an awful rush.

NOTICE OF DEEDS FOR CAUTION

Doing Good

I'm kind of uneasy about my health doctor said the major I have been suffering from shoulders in my right side where my heart is and all my organs seem out of whack in one way or another so I thought I'd ask you to examine me and tell me what's wrong and give me a prescription."

Will be glad to examine you and prescribe Major Standoff replied the doctor, when you have settled that the account of yours which has been running for three years. At the last meeting of our county medical association we passed drastic resolutions forbidding members to have dealings with certain people who are not only paid but pay and your name was the first mentioned in this connection.

Well I regret I can't find the major I should have to be treated by a physician who was not right here in this town which once its very existence to my health and all the sacrifices in the times that tried him a soul. This surely must be an evil dream from which I shall presently wake! It doesn't stand to reason that any man much less a one born doctor would dare to hand such an insult to the pioneer who made the wilderness blossom as the rose!

"Why sir I have been the best friend you ever had since you hung out your shingle. I have boasted you in season and out of season. I look an interest in you from the first and whenever a friend of mine fell sick I would say to him 'Call on Doctor Conklin! He is the most divinely gifted physician in these parts."

When old John Standoff fell sick he was going to send for one of the old established doctors but I talked with him and explained all my eloquence to get him to send for your fellow I ask you as man to man did he send for you or my recommendation for or did he not?"

"He certainly did and I've always felt that it was a new trick on your part. Here I was a stranger in a strange land a young physician trying to establish a practice, and you unloaded that old doubt on me and nearly broke me up in business! I treated him for six months and as soon as he was able to move he jumped the town and this day!"

"I have your idea of gratitude sir," I said. "When I go forth in the hedge and highways to find patients for you, you think I should be responsible for the bills they run up! I suppose you have forgotten who called you up when old Mrs. Topfoly fell sick. Just as soon as I heard of her illness I nearly fainted myself rushing to a telephone to notify you, knowing that you needed patients. I suppose you have forgotten that kindness!"

"No, I have not forgotten, major and if it hadn't been for your graces I'd have shown my appreciation with a wet elm club. I was just getting a footing in some of the wealthy homes of the town then. There was a mild epidemic of measles and I was quite busy and the outlook was encouraging. Then you sent me your confounded telephone message, and I rushed down to see Mrs. Topfoly, and found that she had the smallpox! When my wealthy patrons learned that I was treating a smallpox patient they closed their doors to me. This experience set me back two years, and now you have the nerve to come here reminding me of it!"

"Well, of all the shameless ingratitude that ever defaced the annals of our glorious country this is the worst! This is the reward a man gets for helping the poor and needy, for straining his blind legs running around trying to do good! A man may shed blood and suffer his heart-strings try to aid struggling young men, and after years they turn and send him! 'Well you can go to thunder with your medical association. I don't suppose you could toll an attack of glanders from a lunar eclipse any how, and so your diagnosis wouldn't be worth a cent. If I had a sick one I wouldn't let you prescribe for her. The undertaker was telling me only yesterday that he'll have to buy an extra hearse if you stay here. So I bid you good morning!"

To Make Advertising Pay
"Use good bait, fresh bait and patience," is the advice Frank Walton years ago gave to fishermen and fishing after all is what men engage in—fishing for business. Have for bait good live copy, fresh up-to-date "get up" and patiently fish in one pool. You never heard of a successful angler who rushes first to one pool and then to another. Get the best pool known by experience to contain the fish, and lure him on by offering the best bait in your kit. Fishing and advertising are alike.—Philadelphia Inquirer

Have Confidence in Fellow Men He who is suspicious not only does injustice to others but injures himself. It is our duty to reward others as being good until they prove themselves to be the contrary. According to this principle I have always treated everybody with whom I have had to deal. Of course, one will have some unpleasant experiences, but one must not let this discourage him. One must show approach to his humanity with unwavering confidence.—Bismarck

BIG COAL DEPOSITS

Russian Scientific Explorer Tells of Sakhalin.

Declares Its Agricultural Possibilities Are Small but Says There Is Good Pasture for Cattle—Deep Borings Made for Naphtha

St. Petersburg—Sakhalin the former easternmost island of the Russian empire—once the grim scene of convict settlements and now since the Port smouth treaty Japanese territory in its southern part—is attracting considerable attention as to its natural resources. Naphtha is being much invested in the Amur territory and the process would be helped if Sakhalin, the cork of the Amur basin, were to prove an economic asset. A Russian scientific explorer, M. Polovoy has just given the St. Petersburg Geographic society an estimate of its resources.

Facade of Government Buildings

An agricultural possibilities he rates as low, but there is good pasture for cattle. The meat trade however is not organized at all. Vladivostok close by gets its supplies in cold storage from Australia.

Coal is probably the best of its assured properties. He believes that there are at least ten million tons of it in the island. It would find a good market in the western states of America besides in Japan.
Deep borings are now in progress for naphtha which is in as good position as the naphtha wells and should be able to compete with American petroleum in east Asia. Gold prospecting has not had success. There is a small supply of lumber of which no use was made until in 1908 a firm began to export railway sleepers.

The population, which a dozen years ago consisted of 20,000 Russian deported convicts and about half as many free persons, sank to about 6,000 after the Japanese war. The convicts had got their liberty on condition they volunteered for the war. Russians sold their houses for next to nothing.
A whole village was left to caretakers for 50 rubles. Last year the ex-convicts who had served in the war and returned were declared free peasants and settled near Alexandrovsk, the seat of government.

Sakhalin a weak side as M. Polovoy found it, is in its cut off condition not so much geographically as through want of steam navigation. Moreover, the coasting trade is closed against foreign shipping. There are very few roads into the interior, even the roads prospected by the Russian prison department have fallen back into waste.
Harbors are scarcely to be found at all. Labor is unskilled and there is no ascertainable general rate of wages. Evidently the plantations that has hitherto marked the administration of the important work of the Amur will need to be changed if its great coal and lumber resources are to get a chance.

WON'T SELL JEFFERSON HOME

Congressman Levy, Owner for 25 Years, Announces He Will Not Dispose of Monticello.

New York—Congressman Jefferson
M. Levy has no intention of selling Monticello, once the home of Thomas Jefferson to the government or any one else. The idea of the purchase of Monticello by the government, recently proposed by patriotic societies in Washington is distasteful to him, he declares in a statement given out here.

Mr. Levy has been the owner of Monticello thirty-five years and during that time the property has been scrupulously maintained. Visitors have been admitted to the estate freely, Mr. Levy explains, and the condition of the property is better than it would be if owned by the government.

Washington—Dr. Linebarger, professor of insurance at the University of Pennsylvania was selected by the house merchant marine committee to assist in preparing the investigation of the shipping trust.

Pedacore to be Fed.
Cape Town—Ignace Pedacore, the plantist, had some unpleasant things to say about South Africa before his departure. Pedacore's last was not a pleasant address.

FREAK HIT WORRIES GREEN

Ball Lighted on Scoreboard Platform and Rolled Off When Danny Hustles Up Ladder

Funniest home run that ever any preparers were laid on, said Brislard during the nocturnal fanning bee happened in Chicago six or seven years ago. The Athletics were playing the Sox and it was on the old grounds.

One of our fellows I can't just recall his name now whaled one in the air out to where Danny Green held forth. Now, the scoreboard was there with a platform in front of it just like they have on the billiard grounds.

The ball hit the platform and by gosh it stuck up there. Danny waited for the ball to come down while the batter was smacking around the bases.
After he waited about a few minutes and the ball didn't come down to earth, Danny snaked up the ladder that ran up the platform and started to get the ball. Darned if he didn't get to the top rung of the ladder and was just climbing on the platform when the ball up and rolled off the boards down and fell down where he was standing.

Of course the batter got all the way round while everybody gave Danny the merry ha ha.

BUSINESS IS THEIR LIFE

Thousands of American Men Seem to Be Willing Uninterested in Their Wives

There are thousands of American men who are utterly indifferent to their women. They are proud of them but are utterly uninterested in them and their wives or girlfriends. Their business is their life. It is their life after they are married just as it was before. They are playing a tremendous game, and in this country a man has got to win or go to the wall. It makes no difference whether a man is married or a bachelor. It is not the women of the country who determine it. A man must work of the great rate of speed at which the world is moving.

pace of the country itself which demands it. Our men give generously and indifferently to their women folk they like to see that they have everything in the world, as the saying is. It pleases their vanity to see their houses well appointed and their women well dressed. They like the luxury of it for themselves. What is to be expected of young girls whose fathers have had no influence in their bringing up, but have merely paid the bills —young girls, who have never been taught the use of money nor any details of any business whatsoever, and whose whole duty in life is to dress with the extreme perfection of which our women are past masters, and to keep in good physical condition and talk amiably? These are the prices of success success being measured in this country as elsewhere in terms of marriage and attention—Woman's

CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN

THINGS ON OUR HIGHWAYS

ern and western states I realize that these visions and dreams can only come true after many of us have finished many years of faithful labor or perhaps passed over the great divide. It is that as it may, our interest should not abate.

It is to the women of this dear land of ours that this appeal must be made. If the dream is ever to come true. For and it is but true our men as a rule can do little or nothing for civilization. Trees along our highways mean only an infringement on their rights as free American citizens to extend their cultivation up to the very tread of the wheels. In place of planting trees they are fast cutting down the few that remain. Some men would be thoroughly indignant to put it mildly if we even suggested planting trees along our highways. We will bear with them in this knowing as we do that men cannot afford to be angry with their wives mothers sweethearts and cooks long.

If the women of Alabama had the will to go at this thing now as I believe in my soul they will some day they could in one year create public sentiment to such an extent that I do not believe there would be an intelligent, high-minded, right-thinking man in the whole state who would oppose them. I will go a step further and say, the ladies would not even have to petition the Legislature for laws to plant and protect the trees along our roadways for our men would do it for us, and not only that they would see that such laws were enforced.

I had a vision of Alabama beautiful land of my earliest memories and thought of the return of the time when its beauty should bring back the thought of Here We Rest. What a lovely phrase! It tells of the tired hunter who tired from his chase and enchanted by the natural beauties which surrounded his nature-loving eyes could himself upon the inviting primrose bed and said Here We Rest. He little knew that he rested upon the most fertile land in the South. He little thought that he was being nurtured in the balmy climate of our nation. Let such was his unrealized heritage and such is ours. Let us open our eyes and realize this and let the homogeneous citizenship of this great state join their hands in the concerted effort to bring back the physical grace and beauty possible upon our soil and let Alabama lead the way in civic improvement and of her natural graces return to this Southern state possible under her laws, temples, and her people the beauty of the great state be seen everywhere.

BARNER TO STUDY ACTIVITY

Miss Carpenter and Miss Redfether the western harmony duo began their engagement at our house last night scored the biggest of any other entertainment we have ever had. Their splendid voice and the rendition of the selections place them in a class all their own above the average seen or heard here.

The boys are coming home alight with their lips and teeth all stained blue black with blackberries and berries There are those who will tell you that mulberries are not fit to eat, and they are hog food and every boy knows it, for he has been told that from babyhood, but he will risk the hog reference, and eat mulberries, and seems to enjoy them as much as he does blackberries

The Spot Cash really thinks that it is high time the prohibition laws were enforced in Baldwin county, where the people first got to working

Wallace had to call off the law

Here is something of interest to news men and lawyers: The supreme court has decided says the Birmingham Ledger that a legal advertisement ordered to run once a week for four consecutive weeks does not have to regard the calendar any farther than that It doesn't matter whether it comes for or even days or not that is common sense and the newspapers have always contended for that rule

If the 7c a people who are sit-possible that a new enemy of the have been telling something not ex-have had old subscribers from

We shall continue to comply with the

ON THE RIGHT ROAD

Charles Henderson president of the Alabama Railroad commission has hit the nail on the head and sounded a popular cord when he came out in an interview saying what he thinks of the state's extravagance He is in touch with the public affairs in Alabama and ought to know what he is talking about when he notices the statement that Alabama is spending $500,000 a year that could be done without The people of Alabama have attached the lawless to create jobs that carry with them good pay and most of the improvident for clunk and fat salaries Once these officials take up their abode in the state capital they become public charges, so far as holding offices is concerned They get in the public eye and when opportunists offer they present themselves to other offices elective or appointive

Mr Henderson can name numbers of officers that could be abolished and the people would never take them If the useless jobs were done away with and other expenses curtailed it would be an easy matter for the state to save a million dollars a year
It is really early to begin talking of gubernatorial timber but when the time comes Charles Henderson is going to be mighty available The sort of talk pleased the voters of Alabama And he has a saying it far that effect either He is a business man of wide experience and knows that the state's affairs should be run with as much judgment as the ordinary business man displays in his own business

A SAFE BET

If we were of a gambling nature we would put up a few dimes on Dothan building that packing house plant When they begin a thing they push it with energy every citizen put his shoulder to the wheel and it do move Bully for Dothan We advise our farmers right now to bet on Dothan, says Louis Whet-pains for the Dothan house It will be a big bonanza for Dothan and all Southeast Alabama as well We advise her progressive spirit—Abbeville news
That is a fact When Dothan stinks out on a proposition to dead-enest something must snap They are in earnest about this packing house proposition
It not only means much to Dothan, should the plant be located here, but it means more to this section than any other one thing It should be understood to start with that this is not a distinctive Dothan enterprise The business men here and the business men who are going to put their money into it, realize that it means much to all southeast Alabama

We all know that the boll weevil will be with us in two years at the outside and we must get ready This plant when put in running order affords a market for all southeast Alabama, and southwest Georgia It is putting money into the farmers hands every day of the year, hot or cold, rain or shine, boll weevil or not boll weevil

Should it be located here Dothan will profit no more than any other town in this territory, except that it will have the advantage of the payroll All of the towns will have more cash the year round than they are accustomed to, because the farmers will have cash without waiting till cotton selling time No enterprise has ever been discussed in this town that met with such universal favor as the packing plant

It takes money to build it and the local committee has secured the $70,000 it thought it would be fair for other stock will be offered to the towns in this territory and the farmers

The Dr. Wiley have a baby It's a boy and right fresh

As usual when anything happens, that a story might be given the public, the newspaper men hunted up the doctor on learning of the news and got the doctor to talk Now in the way Old Doc Wiley is going, to raise his baby

Our child he declared is to be a pure food and fresh air baby It really At 2.5c he will take natural food from his mother, and it surprises any baby food that ever was or ever will be invented

A child should not be weaned until he is 15 or 18 months old, and never until he has passed his second summer Our baby will be weaned a year from next September It will not be given fruit until after he is three years old and has all his teeth If we can obtain tubercleless germ proof perfectly clean cow's milk, he will be allowed to drink all he can

From the very first our baby will sleep in the open air, as God intended all men to do His little lungs filled with life giving ozone taken fresh from the great out of doors without being bottled in close rooms and unhealthy mansions

His clothes will be very few and very simple I do not intend that our baby shall ever wear the trailing robes many miles too long that torment and retard the growth of infants

One of the earliest lessons a child should be taught is to thrift I stand of John Harvey being allowed to squander his pennies as he is taught to save them I started him right off today, said the doctor as he displayed a savings bank made out to John Harvey Wiley with an initial deposit of $100

That sounds fine on paper and we hope Old Doc will be able to live up to it—advance bills, but he is up against another proposition than condemning pure food If you will read the statement close you will see that he doesn't bring the mother into any of it plus not at least till the boy is 3 months old He doesn't seem to realize that mother is going to lose that baby She is going to give in out and paragonize just when she gets good ready and when grandma says she is right now learning Little Vi-vie to drink catnip tea and when it fails with colic on an old fashion colic remedy is going to be administered and but Little is going to be said about whether it is, yes, proof and free from impurities

As a baby raiser the doctor is theoretical success and gives out statements that every young mother will file away for reference but they will not revolutionize the art He is right we will admit that he has it figured out so that kid should really never have an ache or a pain but we will wager he cries as much as a piney woods baby and that he will be taking grandma remedies that was handed down from Mrs Noah
But go it it Doc we will back your judgment We believe you are right Have always believed you were right

A big high built mare with a large barrel on short legs is likely to produce a better foal than the tall leggy kind

Four hundred head of good draft horses were eagerly snapped up at good prices at a recent horse sale in Minot

The difficulty of disposing of common grades of horses is as much to finding buyers for them as in getting respectable prices

No matter how highly bred and carefully cultured a colt may be if it is not carefully trained and properly developed it loses its value

It takes some horses ugly to travel with horses that do not work up with them Match them as to gait as well as to other things

Horse bleeding requires more capital is more probable if successful and involves larger losses if not than any other kind of stock breeding

There is money in dairying in spite of a prevalent notion to the contrary but it needs a combination of good cows and good management to get it out

Ducks are frequently afflicted with influenza It comes from roosting on damp ground Give them a good dry house with plenty of straw for bedding and keep them in it all night

Don't try to economize by buying seeds that are cheap Get the best and don't complain if the price seems high It costs money to grow and pay high grade seeds and it doesn't pay to use any other

A dry ground floor is better than a cold damp cement floor, but it must be remembered that the dogs will soon work the ground floor into a dust mitch which is injurious to their lungs Better have a good cement floor covered with boards and plenty of bedding
